Angry Father Relents When He Realizes His Daughter May Go to the Pen-The Docket Orders.

The Long Creek dog case came to an end in the circuit court Tuesday when the jury returned a verdict finding Wil-liam Desper not guilty of maliclous mischief as charged in the indictment. The offense alleged was in throwing a slice of poisoned bread to a cur dog be-

Following that case Sam Peck was arraigned on the charge of forging and passing forged notes. Peck pleads not guilty. There are four separate cases and they are being tried as one. Pech was a huckster and lived near Mt. Zion

Last summer he began the business of passing forged notes. The forgers charged was in signing the name of W. S Traughber. The first of these notes was sold by Peck in July. Then two were disposed of in September and the last in November. The face value of the notes was $23, $61,56, $65 and $60,20.

After the last of these notes was disposed of Peck disappeared and was finally located it Indianapolis where he was arrested. He resisted extradition proceedings without avail and was brought back here for trial. Recently he has been out on bond. FAULTY INDICTMENT.

The case against Philip and John unce and most revolting details resulting, were alleged to be a part of the testimony forthcoming. A BIG OFFER

HE Herald has had an opportunity to procure a T { limited supply of Tunison's Atlas, Encyclopedia and Gazeteer of the Globe. This is the finest of its kind in existence. It is brought up to 1902, and is just off the press. The book when spread out is four feet from tip to tip, giving space for maps on a scale large enough to make them distinct and plain. All plates of maps and matter are new, costing $50,000 in their preparation.

This superb book is complete in all its details, embracing geography, history, statistics, astronomy, geology and botany. In fact it is a library in itself. A family could not afford to do without it at a cost of $10.00. The Herald has been fortunate in procuring a small number of these superb Atlases so that we can furnish them at $1.50 to all subscribers old and new. We do not reduce the price of the paper, but simply add the sum of $1.50 for the book to subscribers who pay in advance. The proposition then is as follows:

Semi-Weekly Herald-One Year $1.00 Daily Herald—One Year.....$5,00 Daily Herald, Six months.....$2.50 Both......$4.00

A sample of the atlas can be seen at the Herald counting room or of our traveling solicitor, Mr. Willis Walker.
